Aeroplanes are man-made aircraft with wings that can fly around the globe against gravity.

There are different types of aeroplanes such as passenger aeroplanes, cargo flights, private jets, fighter jets, etc.

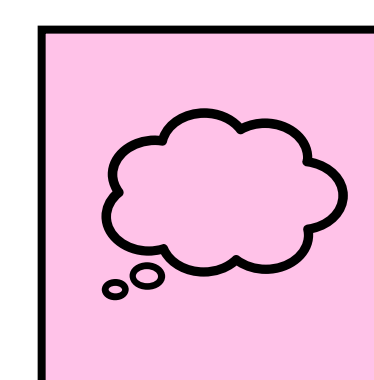

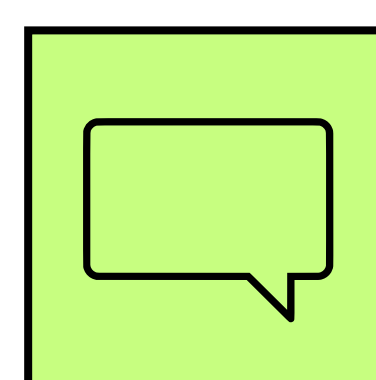

Aeroplanes are parked, when not flying, in a designated area called hangars.

Aeroplanes were invented by the Wright brothers in the year 1903, on the 17th of December.

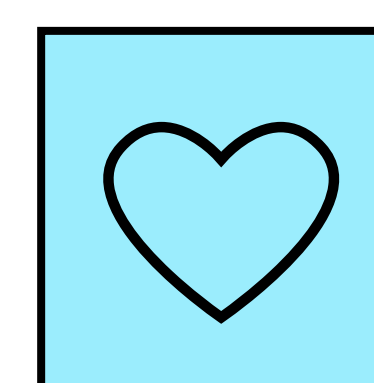

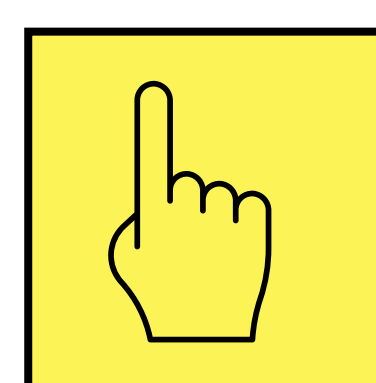

On 23 June 1985, it was operated using Boeing 747-237B registered VT-EFO.

Air India Flight 182 was an Air India flight operating on the Montreal–London–Delhi–Bombay route.

It disintegrated in mid-air en route from Montreal to London, at an altitude of 31,000 feet (9,400 m) over the Atlantic Ocean

TRAGEDY OF FLIGHT

The idea that Soviet fighter jets would shoot down a Boeing 747 airliner seems shockingly unbelievable. Two-hundred sixty-nine innocent people died in a largely forgotten Cold War attack that took place exactly 30 years ago this weekend.

A Nepali passenger plane with 72 people onboard crashed in Nepal's Pokhara on Sunday. Sixty-eight bodies have been recovered from the site of the accident.

On a sultry August night in 1983 at New York's JFK airport, Alice Ephraimson-Abt, a brilliant, 23-year-old blue-eyed blonde, was about to board Korean Air Lines Flight 007 for Seoul, South Korea, halfway around the world

For one last time, she held her father, New Jersey businessman Hans Ephraimson-Abt, before saying goodbye. “There were hugs and I-love-yous,” her father, now 91, told CNN.
